TWO GILL NETTERS ONLY MADE LIFTS

Not an arrival of any description was reported at this port this morning. It was one of the coldest days of the winter along the water front, with plenty of breeze outside, consequently none of the gill netters were out.

Yesterday, the Medomak and Dolphin were the only steamers lifting, the former with 500 pounds and the latter 1000 pounds.

Today's Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are:

Str. Medomak, gill netting, 500 lbs. fresh fish.

GARDNER IS WITH THE FISHERMEN

Wires Times His Attitude on Otter Trawling Report—Will Be Guided By Wishes of His Cape Ann Constituents.

Congressman Gardner is evidently keeping in close touch with the fishermen and fishing interests as regards their attitude towards the otter trawling report and that he intends to stand by them is thoroughly evident from the telegram received from him this morning.

The despatch says:

Deeply regret disappointment caused by beam trawl report. My future steps in the matter will be guided entirely by the wishes of my Cape Ann constituents. A. P. GARDNER.

While there has been no concerted movement or action on the part of the local fishing interest as yet, it is not at all unlikely that there will be a meeting at some early future date, when the report in full will be discussed, with a view of shaping a course on which the campaign against the otter trawlers will be continued before the authorities at Washington.

Cod Prices at St. John's, N. F.

Transactions between fishermen and merchant are over, but an occasional parcel of fish from outport planters and business men finds its way into St. John's. The price for this varies somewhat—the most of it is taken on a talqual basis, the figure being from $7.60 to $7.80 for good, dry, large Merchantable and Maderia. West India goes at $4, and Labrador (soft) at $5.50; Labrador, (hard) is quoted at $7, if well-dried. Codoll is quoted at from $82 to $85 per tun, and lobsters are not being handled at any price at present.—St. John's, N. F., Trade Review.

Flounder Dredgers at Hyannis.

South Hyannis looks forward to the coming of the flounder dredging boats and steamers to the number of 20, and has much to say about the lively appearance they give her harbor. Provincetown has between 45 and 50 boats but they cause no unusual commotion. Most of these are local boats. The out-of-town boats are: Bessie M. Dugan, Capt. John Vautier; Emrild, Capt. Patrick Shea; Azorean, Capt. Andrew Meade of Gloucester; Lydia, Capt. John Brooks of Gloucester; Esther, Capt. Robert Lurchin of New Bedford.

Hurt on Beam Trawler.

Daly Hayes, one of the crew of the beam trawler Wave, Capt. Richard Tobin, had his hand badly crushed in the steel cable while fishing on Georges last Thursday. Without waiting to complete the trip, the captain headed the trawler for Boston and Hayes is now in the hospital.

Week's Landings at New Pier.

Fresh groundfish receipts for the week ending January 28 at Boston were 1,304,405 pounds from 46 arrivals as compared with 1,173,560 pounds from 52 arrivals for the corresponding week of 1914.

STORM TIES UP SHORE FLEET

No arrivals were recorded since Saturday. The gill netters were unable to fish Saturday, but some a few of them were out and secured small fares.

All the market fleet of boats tied up in port today on account of the storm. Quite a fleet of coasters made port yesterday afternoon and evening over the storm.
